

The Min Kao Scholarships in Electrical and Computer Engineering

The University of Tennessee's Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering has established a new scholarship program for exceptional young men and women committed to pursuing an education in electrical or computer engineering.

The Min Kao Scholarships in Electrical and Computer Engineering are the most prestigious and rewarding scholarships offered by UT's College of Engineering. The maximum amount to be awarded is $16,000 per academic year, and is renewable for four years.

Candidates for the Min Kao Scholarships must have an ACT score of 30 or higher, a high school GPA of at least 3.8 and be a declared undergraduate majoring in electrical or computer engineering. Transfer students are also eligible and encouraged to apply.

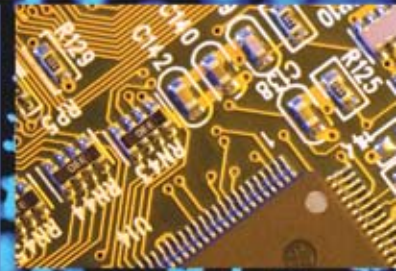

The scholarship is named for Dr. Min Kao, Chairman and CEO of Garmin Ltd., a world leader in global positioning systems (GPS) technology. Dr. Kao received a B.S. degree from National Taiwan University and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in electrical engineering from the University of Tennessee. Thanks to his generous gift, a new 150,000 sq. ft. state-of-the-art education and research facility bearing Dr. Kao's name is being constructed.
